FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Are agencies still required to offer clients a preference form that needs to be signed by the client?

No. All persons who are present at an agency in-person to apply for public assistance, renew public assistance services, or change their address related to an existing application for services should be given a voter registration application. The NVRA statements are on the voter registration application AND the agency forms.

What if a client has already received a voter registration application recently?

The NVRA requires that voter registration services be offered for each covered transaction, regardless of the frequency of covered transactions for the same person.

How should an agency handle phone transactions?

Ask the client over the phone the NVRA question. If the client desires to register to vote, mail the client a voter registration application and the DSS Cover Letter.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What is the process if an authorized rep is applying for the actual adult client?

Give the voter registration application to the authorized representative to take to the actual client. There is also no issue with also offering voter registration services to the authorized representative too.

How should agencies handle applications that are sent to the client via mail?

The NVRA voter registration question is part of the services application sent to clients via mail. If the client indicates on the returned application that he or she would like voter registration services, mail the applicant a voter registration application and DSS Cover Letter.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Should a voter registration form be given to a person who is not a U.S. citizen?

An agency representative should not offer voter registration services to persons that are not U.S. citizens.

Why should voter registration services be offered to persons 16 or 17 years of age?

Persons 16 or 17 years of age may preregister to vote.

If a person is unsure about their qualifications to vote, should they complete an application?

We recommend they take the application home and contact the board of elections for clarification on registering to vote or voting.

National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (NVRA)

The NVRA is a federal statute that mandated dramatic changes to states' voter registration procedures by January 1, 1995. North Carolina met the deadline and implemented all aspects of the Act.

The NVRA has often been called the "motor voter" bill because it required driver license offices to take applications for voter registration. It also included other agencies and a mail registration program. It affects the entire process of registration. It created new opportunities for historically under represented citizen groups to make initial application to register to vote.

Certain groups that may not have had the opportunity to apply to register to vote were offered the voter registration service when applying for services at a number of state agencies.

North Carolina Agencies required to offer the opportunity to register to vote are:

- Division of Services for the Blind
- Division of Services for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing
- Division of Medical Assistance
- Division of Public Health/WIC
- Division of Social Services
- Division of Rehabilitation Services
- Employment Security Commission
