

North Carolina Assistive Technology Program

Life, accessible.

The North Carolina Assistive Technology Program (NCATP) works with people of all ages and abilities, providing assessments, equipment demos, short-term device loans, training and referrals to funding sources.

ASSISTIVE TECHNOLOGY

LOW-TECH

- Canes and Walkers
- Modified Utensils
- Pencil Grips

MID-TECH

- Screen Magnifiers
- Switch-Adapted Toys
- Modified Keyboards

HIGH-TECH

- Environmental Control Units
- Bluetooth Integration
- Augmentative/Alternative Communication Systems

OFF-THE-SHELF

- Digital Assistants and Smart Speakers
- Computers, Tablets and Smartphones
- Wearable Tech and Accessibility Apps

NCATP SERVICES

EDUCATION

Our no-cost services include:

- NCATP Center tours, equipment demonstrations and short-term loans
- Technical assistance for device installation, usage and maintenance
- Information and referrals about funding resources

Check our website for more information and resources:

- Virtual tour of an NCATP Center using our telepresence robot
- AT trainings, tutorials and device demonstrations
- AT news, reviews and events

EVALUATIONS

Our comprehensive, person-centered assessments evaluate the needs, goals and available resources of each individual to ensure that the recommended equipment and devices will enhance independence, productivity, inclusion and quality of life.

Fee-for-service assessments, trainings and consultations are available statewide at any of our nine NCATP Centers or in the places where you learn, work and live.

EQUIPMENT

NCATP offers device demonstration and short-term device loans so you can test equipment before you buy. We also host the N.C. Exchange Post, an online marketplace for gently used devices.

N.C.
Exchange
Post

www.ncexchangepost.org

State of North Carolina | Department of Health and Human Services
www.nc.gov | www.ncdhhs.gov

N.C. DHHS is an equal opportunity employer and provider.

25,000 copies of this public document were printed at a cost of $1,329.29 or 0.053 per copy. 08/17