Windmills is a disability awareness and inclusion program that equips business leaders with the knowledge, skills and tools to create an inclusive workplace where all employees have the opportunity to thrive.

Provided at no cost to North Carolina employers who want to support a diverse, disability-inclusive workforce, Windmills addresses the real-world situations faced by large and small businesses and helps leaders:

• Recognize the benefits of diverse experiences and abilities
• Improve communications with and about people with disabilities
• Learn how to implement low-cost accommodations
• Understand the basics of disability employment law

DVRS partners with employers to deliver customized disability awareness and inclusion trainings statewide. Check out some of our most popular training topics:

THE STORY
Understand the value of inclusion and how it can power innovation and productivity in your workplace.

PROFILES
Learn how disability stereotypes can impact employment decisions.

REASONABLE ACCOMMODATION
Develop creative solutions to accommodate needs of people with disabilities.

FACT OR FICTION
Test your knowledge about disability in the workplace and learn the basics of disability employment law.

ASK AN EXPERT
Q&A with an expert panel of people with disabilities.

For more information or to find a Windmills trainer, call a regional office near you:

Western
(828) 608-5690

Central
(919) 579-5100

Eastern
(252) 355-9010

NCDHHS is an equal opportunity employer and provider.